HITCH IN HO'S NOMINATION

To Attend KMT Session?

Unconfirmed reports from Canton yesterday said that President Chiang Kai-shek will attend the Seventh National Congress of the Kuomintang next month.

The date for convening the Congress has not yet been fixed.

President Chiang Kai-shek is still Tsung Tsan-Director-General—of the Kuomintang.

One report added that President Chiang is preparing an important manifesto for the approval of the Congress.

The manifesto will define the Kuomintang's policy in regard to the peace talks between the Communist Party and the Central Government of China.

Nationalists Maintain Majority

Johannesburg, March 11.

The Nationalist Party of Dr. Daniel Malan, South African Prime Minister, has won a majority with 86 seats in the Union Provincial Council elections.

General Smuts' United Party secured 78 seats. The final state of the parties were:

Transvaal: Nationalists 34, United Party 27, Independent 2, Labour 2, one seat vacant.

Cape Province: Nationalists 20, United Party 28, Labour one, Orange Free State: Nationalists 24, United Party one.

Natal: Nationalists 2, United Party 22, Independent 1.

One of the three Independents will support the Nationalists. Dr. Malan, fighting the elections on the Nationalist "apartheid" policy of racial segregation, failed to obtain the sweeping victories which would have given definite electoral support to this policy.

His party has done no more than maintain the gains made in last year's general election, when it defeated the United Party.

In the 1943 provincial elections, the Nationalists won 48 seats and the United Party 97. A party's gain in the present provincial elections should reflect itself in increased strength in the Senate of the Union next November.

Members of the provincial councils and members of Parliament met as a college to elect members to the Senate, who in November complete their ten-year term of office.—Reuter.

Tremor Rocks Town In New S. Wales

Sydney, March 11.

Terrified residents of Dalton, a town of 500 people, 130 miles South West of Sydney, rushed into the streets today as cracks appeared in brick and concrete buildings during an earth tremor.

Wooden buildings swayed crazily but no serious damage was reported.

The Riverview observatory, Sydney, said that the tremor was the worst since 1939 and more widespread than on that occasion.

A large part of Southern New South Wales felt the tremor. Buildings in Sydney and its suburbs were shaken, and in Canberra, the shocks were the severest ever experienced there.

The tremor, which appeared to be centred in the Dalton area, lasted from 20 seconds to one minute. Dalton residents said that the main shock was followed by a series of tremors at quarter hour intervals.—Reuter.

Premiership May Be Offered To Chu Cheng PEACE TALKS HAZY

Nanking, March 11.

A hitch in the nomination of General Ho Ying-chin, former minister of Defence, as the Nationalist Premier to succeed Dr. Sun Fo, has developed, according to unconfirmed reports tonight from Hangchow, in Chekiang Province, where General Ho is staying temporarily.

General Ho was expected to fly to Nanking this afternoon with Generals Chang Chi-chung and Poi Chung-hsi and Mr. Wu Chung-hsi, to await the approval of his nomination for the premiership by the Legislative Yuan and to begin selecting his cabinet ministers.

However, up to a late hour today, General Chang's party which flew to Hangchow to fetch General Ho this morning, had not returned to the capital.

Yesterday, General Chang and Mr. Wu Chung-hsi returned from Chikow, near Fenghua, where they were reported to have obtained Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's approval for General Ho's nomination.

This, however, was reported to have been given reluctantly by the retired president, the news of which, observers think, may have caused General Ho to reconsider his earlier reported acceptance of the premiership.

One local newspaper report here said that General Chang Chi-chung took a letter to General Ho from Chiang Kai-shek.

Change Possible

Meanwhile, in Nanking, sources close to Acting President Li Tsung-jen, said that it was possible that changes might develop in connection with the nomination of the premier to be sent to the Legislative Yuan for approval. Acting President Li Tsung-jen was understood to be now considering offering the premiership to Dr. Chu Cheng, former Judicial Yuan President, and one of the founders, with the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen, of the Chinese Republic.

Dr. Chu Cheng, a graduate of the Tokyo Law College, is said to be now beyond the influence of Chiang Kai-shek.

At 75, he held the Presidency of the Judicial Yuan for more than 10 years. General Ho Ying-chin's nomination as the new premier of Nationalist China was the direct result of the approval given by Chiang Kai-shek, who chose him from a list of four prominent Nationalist leaders submitted to him. The names were—General Ho Ying-chin, General Chang Chin, General Chang Chi-chung and Mr. Shao Li-tse.

Sources close to Acting President Li Tsung-jen said that the names were submitted by General Chang Chi-chung and Mr. Wu Chung-hsi, liaison officer between the Generalissimo and the acting-president, who returned to Nanking yesterday from several days' sojourn at Chikow.

Their mission for President Li was to ascertain Chiang Kai-shek's views on who should be China's next premier to succeed Dr. Sun Fo and endeavour to persuade Chiang to relinquish his powers and go abroad.

Persuasion

The Generalissimo is understood to have at first told the mission that as Acting President Li had taken office, it was unnecessary for him to nominate "his man" for the premiership. Only after considerable persuasion did the Generalissimo reluctantly changed his attitude and selected General Ho from the list.

He is understood to have declined the suggestion that he should hand over full powers to Acting President Li and go abroad. Observers say that Chiang Kai-shek still holds the real power in Nationalist China unofficially, through the loyalty of his secret police and many army commanders, as well as a big following of Kuomintang conservatives.

After General Chang Chi-chung had ascertained the Generalissimo's final views, he endeavoured to fly to Hangchow to pick up General Ho and to bring him to Nanking, but his plans were thwarted by bad weather. This necessitated General Poi Chung-hsi, another close supporter of General Li Tsung-jen,

Reds Attack Tahokow

Nanking, March 11.

More than 10,000 Communists, supported by heavy artillery, were attacking Tahokow, 10 miles West of the centre of the Nationalist Yangtze river North bank bridgehead at Yichang, and about 30 miles East of Nanking, according to reports from Chinkiang today.

Artillery and machine-gun fire could be heard this afternoon in Yichang. The fate of Tahokow was unknown.

A Communist column, rapidly moving South, has reached Tienchang, and was expected to provide reinforcements for the Communists at the bridgehead fighting, Chinkiang reports said.—Reuter-AAP.

Mr. Wei said that the Reds had agreed to the restoration of the sea link between Communist North China and Nationalist controlled territories and designated Tientsin as the centre of operations.

Other members of the delegation revealed that the resumption of shipping will be based on three general principles—shipping service in Chinese territorial waters will be conducted exclusively by Chinese vessels, transport of goods should follow the most economical and direct route and full consideration must be given to navigation safety.

Based on these principles, the delegation said, the Communists agreed that:

1.—A committee, composed of two Nationalist members and three Communist representatives be formed to handle all matters pertaining to shipping.

2.—Ship crew members will be permitted shore leave.

3.—Ships will be allowed to enter any port or harbour for repairs in the event of an emergency.

4.—River pilots must be of Chinese nationality.

5.—Passengers will be permitted either to leave or enter ports.

6.—Ships must carry troops.

Anticipating an early and favourable reply from Nanking, Chinese shipping circles are said to be pushing ahead with plans for regular sailings from North China.

Shanghai Mart

The intervention of the Central Bank and the tight money situation in Nanking caused a decline in foreign currency and gold quotations today, but prices of commodities and foodstuffs continued their upward climb.

United States dollar sagged to 5,800 this morning from the peak of 6,500 48 hours ago, but recovered slightly in the afternoon.

According to the Shanghai Evening Post, the Central Bank entered all markets with seemingly unlimited resources to satisfy all demands in gold, exchange certificates and even textiles, after enlisting the co-operation of the state-owned China Textiles Industries.—Reuter and Associated Press.

Explosion In Germany Kills 11

Brunswick, March 11.

An explosion in a British dump near Brunswick killed 11 persons and injured more than 30 today.

It was not immediately known whether any British officials were among the casualties.

The dump is staffed mainly by Germans. The injured were taken to hospital.

The casualty figures were issued by the German police. The dump is operated by the Disposal Branch of the Ministry of Supply.—Associated Press.

Rail Repairs

Both sides are meanwhile recognizing and reinforcing their armies. The Communists are repairing necessary railroads and laying other ground-work which would allow them to undertake a large-scale crossing of the Yangtze.

The majority of political observers view peace prospects with distinct pessimism. It is felt that the tremendous public desire for peace is forcing both sides to go through at least the motions of negotiation.

There is no doubt that both camps want peace. But the respective minimum peace terms are believed mutually unacceptable.

Meanwhile, the resumption of shipping services between Communist and Nationalist China will get underway as soon as the Nationalist authorities give their approval. Mr. Wei Wenhan, head of Shanghai's six-man delegation to North China, told newsmen at Shanghai today.

Sea Link

Mr. Wei said that the Reds had agreed to the restoration of the sea link between Communist North China and Nationalist controlled territories and designated Tientsin as the centre of operations.

Other members of the delegation revealed that the resumption of shipping will be based on three general principles—shipping service in Chinese territorial waters will be conducted exclusively by Chinese vessels, transport of goods should follow the most economical and direct route and full consideration must be given to navigation safety.

Based on these principles, the delegation said, the Communists agreed that:

1.—A committee, composed of two Nationalist members and three Communist representatives be formed to handle all matters pertaining to shipping.

2.—Ship crew members will be permitted shore leave.

3.—Ships will be allowed to enter any port or harbour for repairs in the event of an emergency.

4.—River pilots must be of Chinese nationality.

5.—Passengers will be permitted either to leave or enter ports.

6.—Ships must carry troops.

Anticipating an early and favourable reply from Nanking, Chinese shipping circles are said to be pushing ahead with plans for regular sailings from North China.

Registration For HKDF

Total registrations at Volunteer Headquarters yesterday were 1,250 for the Defence Force and 951 for the other services.

Of those who had registered for the Defence Force, 231 were Europeans.

Old Volunteers who had signified their willingness to re-join numbered 140.

More than half chose to join the Hong Kong Regiment. The numbers were: Hong Kong Regiment (237), Navy (160), Air Force (185), Home Guard (90), Essential Services (85), and Women's Auxiliaries (107).

It was learned at Volunteer Headquarters yesterday that the screening process was still going on, and so far no further screening in has taken place since Colonel Tide signed up as the first recruit.

THAT'S A LOT OF SHOOTIN'

Bangkok, March 11.

Forty Siamese police needed 20 hours, 4,000 shots and two grenades to subdue a former Chinese soldier. He was wanted for assembling his employer in Kan-buri.

The Chinese surrendered only after he was hit by 100 bullets, police said. He had barricaded himself in a house.

He gave up when a grenade thrown by police and lying unexploded in the house, was hit by a rifle shot and burst.—Associated Press.

Govt Requisitions Four More Vacant Premises

Armed with authority from the Deputy Colonial Secretary, Eastern District police seized control of four vacant residential premises on the island yesterday.

This is the second move of its kind since October on the part of the authorities concerned in their campaign to solve Hong Kong's housing problem and wipe out the key money racket.

The premises requisitioned yesterday are at No. 6, Babington Path, No. 521, Queen's Road, West (ground floor), No. 50, Village Road (ground floor) and No. 69, Jervois Road (ground floor).

A government spokesman said yesterday that the premises have been observed to be vacant for some time in spite of the acute housing difficulties in the Colony.

At Fair Rentals

The requisitioned premises will be allocated to members of the public at fair rentals, he said. Owners of the property will be given a time limit in which to make representations in writing to the Deputy Colonial Secretary in respect of the requisitioned houses.

The first move on the part of Government to requisition vacant premises was taken on October 31 when 25 vacant flats and houses were commandeered.

More Areas To Be Cleared Of Squatters

Four additional areas in the urban districts on the Mainland are to be cleared of squatter colonies.

One of the areas is bounded on the North by Bailey Street, on the East by the waterfront, on the South by Taiwan Road, and on the West by Matanui Road.

The second area is bounded on the West by Waterloo Road, on the North by Prince Edward Road, and on the South East by Argyle Street.

The third is bounded on the North by Cornwall Road, on the East by Waterloo Road, on the South by Prince Edward Road, and on the West by the Kowloon-Canton Railway.

The fourth area is bounded on the West by Canton Road, on the North by Austin Road, on the East by Chatham Road, and on the South by Salisbury Road.

ISRAEL, TRANSJORDAN SIGN CEASE-FIRE PACT

Rhodes, March 11.

Israel and Transjordan today signed a formal cease-fire agreement here, to be effective until superseded by a general armistice. The agreement does not cover the sector of Central Palestine occupied by Transjordan's Iraqi allies.

United Press reports that agreement was reached as Transjordan sources reported fighting between Israeli and Arab Legion troops North of Akaba, Transjordan port on the Gulf of Akaba, which is garrisoned by British forces.

The two delegations agreed in principle to a cease-fire early last week in separate talks with the United Nations' Acting Palestine mediator, Dr. Ralph Bunche, but some UN circles had expressed fear that a formal agreement might be delayed as a result of the Akaba reports.

A report from Tel Aviv says that the government today announced that Israeli forces have seized the five-mile coastal strip called Elath, at the Southernmost tip of Palestine, after a clash with the Arab Legion of Transjordan. Israel's first confirmation of fighting in the border area came as Rhodes dispatches reported Israel and Transjordan had agreed to a cease-fire.

The United States and Britain have begun high-level talks in Washington and London on the flare-up in Palestine, according to authoritative sources in London.

The Transjordan Government said today that battles between the Arab Legion troops and Israeli forces are still in progress.

No Indication

There has been no definite indication of the results of the reported battles in the border area near the British garrisoned port of Akaba. Arab Legion reinforcements have been proceeding to Akaba since last night, the Government said.

In London Mr. Hector McNall, British "Minister of State," told the House of Commons today that Transjordan has reported Israeli forces thrust some miles into Transjordan territory, raided a police outpost and withdrew.

He said another report received from King Abdullah's British-favoured Government told of a movement of a considerable force of Israeli troops toward the Gulf of Akaba. The troops are reported to have reached the gulf, he said.

He added that no British troops have been involved in actions resulting from the movements.—Reuter, United Press and Associated Press.

MR. W. J. KEATES FULLY CONSCIOUS

Mr. W. J. Keates, Editor-in-Chief of the "China Mail" and "Sunday Herald," has recovered full consciousness and is believed to be out of danger.

A report from Queen Mary hospital stated, however, that he cannot yet receive visitors.

Mr. Keates was involved in a tram accident on February 14.

Shanghai's residents have given up guessing what will happen next, and have settled down to wait.

"Whatever happens next, they're prepared," declared Mr. A.H. Brown of the British-American Tobacco Company, who is passing through the Colony on his way to the United Kingdom for home leave. He expects to leave by BOAC on Saturday.

Mr. Brown, 30 years a resident in China, said that it was just a matter of time before Communist influence would be felt in Shanghai. He said there was little reaction to the resignation of Dr. Sun Fo.

Mr. Brown will be returning to Shanghai sometime in August. He expressed the hope that his family would be able to come out again from the United Kingdom, where they were evacuated at the time of the "big scare" over the Communist advance late last year.

Banditry Reported In Kwangtung

Widespread banditry and intensified Communist operations in Kwangtung province have been recorded during the past week, according to reports from Canton yesterday.

Vernacular press messages said that a well-equipped Communist force crossed the Hainan Straits from Hainan Island to seize temporary control of Luichow city. They withdrew after raiding government supply depots.

Bandits operating in the North East and West river valleys have encircled a number of big county towns. The towns are at the mercy of the bandits as Government reinforcements for the affected areas are not available.

Similar reports come from Kunming, provincial seat of Yunnan. The provincial Government has suspended postal services beyond the boundaries of the capital after several postal caravans had been ambushed and robbed.

Bandits have also made attacks on the Yunnan-Indo-China railway. In one instance they removed some sleepers. Derailment was avoided only by a timely warning from railway guards.

Armed gangs are also active along the Yunnan-Kweichow highway preying on commercial caravans and government supply trucks.

In Southern Kwangtung, a force of some 200 Communist troops raided Hoiping city. Outnumbered, the small Government garrison called for reinforcements.

The raiders retreated leaving behind more than 10 killed. Three of their men were taken prisoner. Government troops suffered four dead.

May Visit Relatives In Japan

The Supreme Commander of the Allied Powers in Japan has authorized individuals to enter Japan for the purpose of visiting immediate relatives who are Japanese nationals or who are foreign nationals and who were permanent residents of Japan prior to December, 1941.

Immediate relatives are defined as grandparents, parents, children, grandchildren (including by adoption), brothers or sisters, husbands and wives, said an official Hong Kong Government statement yesterday.

This programme is being authorized for compassionate reasons and will be under constant surveillance to insure that the terms under which it is authorized will not be violated.

Violations will lead to immediate scrutiny with a view to revocation of the programme. Visitors to Japan will have to complete their visits and return to the port of embarkation in time to departure within 60 days after their arrival in Japan.

Visitors will not be permitted to convert Yen into other currencies on departure from Japan.

Full details, instructions and forms for application for entry into Japan for the purpose of visiting relatives can be obtained from the Immigration Office, Oriental Building.

Bail Reduced For Alleged Swindlers

On the successful application made by Messrs. Russ and Comber at Central yesterday, Mr. F. X. d'Almada granted a further reduction in bail in the case of two men and two women involved in an alleged swindle.

Mr. Russ said that his friend, Mr. Silva was unable to attend but Mr. Comber will make a similar application of a reduction in bail.

The defendants arrested have been kept in custody for three weeks on charges of larceny by trickery and conspiracy. They have been trying hard to raise the necessary money to put up bail and have been unable to do so.

The granting of an excessive bail is tantamount to the denial of justice—continued Mr. Russ.

Bail was originally fixed at HK$200,000 half in cash and half in surety and later it was reduced to $150,000 half in cash and half in surety. Now bail has been fixed at $130,000 half in cash and half in two sureties to be approved.

Mr. Comber said the first two defendants are husband and wife and have business of their own. If one is granted bail in a smaller amount and the other kept in custody, surely one would not leave the other.

Opposition

Sub Inspector Moore said that he had opposed the reduction of bail before and would oppose again. He said the sums involved are large and, therefore, bail must be proportionally high.

Mr. d'Almada is granting a reduction of bail said that the amount involved is considerable. It has never been the aim of the prosecution to deny bail in the sense that by calling a high bail in order that it may be prohibitive.

The prosecution has stressed that the charges upon the evidence before them disclosed a large amount involved in the alleged swindle nor is it the desire of the court to deny granting bail, bail being essentially in bond to ensure the attendance of the defendant at the trial.

Bail for each of the defendants is allowed at $150,000, each, of them half in cash and half in two sureties to be approved.

The defendants Ng Yuk-ping and Tong Pak-ho are being defended by Mr. A. S. C. Comber, Shui Chu-wan alias Miss Lee is being represented by Mr. A. S. C. Russ and Young Su, by Mr. M. A. da Silva.

Inquest Bares Tragic Story Of NT Murder

A tragic story of a widow's pregnancy, rape and eventual murder, was related before Mr. Blair-Kerr at Kowloon yesterday during an inquest into the death of a father and his son.

The verdict in the inquest was murder by To Chung-tai, aged 20, and his friend Wong Kai-cho, aged 25; both of whom escaped after committing the crime in June last year.

The dead were To Fung-chung, aged 54, and his son To Ching-yin. Medical evidence produced in court yesterday stated that they had died as a result of bullet wounds.

The story dated back to about the beginning of June 1948, in the Ta Kung Ling village in the New Territories, Kowloon, when a widow, Tsai Po, was rumored to be pregnant, the cause of which, was alleged to be To Fung-chung.

In spite of his repeated denials, the rumors persisted. Finally the old man tried to clear his name at a meeting of village elders.

Meanwhile the widow, Tsai Po, had said that the old man was not the cause of her condition, stating that she had been raped by custom slaves at the Border. Rumors however continued to circulate in the village.

A few days later the village hall became congested with people as the villagers gathered to pronounce their verdict upon To Fung-chung.

The old man and his son sat aside by side in the hall as the last of the village elders took his seat.

Tense Silence

A tense silence descended upon the hall as To Chung-tai, the woman's grown-up son, walked in accompanied by his friend, Wong Kai-cho.

As proceedings were about to begin it was stated, To drew a pistol, a Colt .38, and in full view of the court, gathered around the old man, who was supposed to be the floor-mortally wounded. He later died in the Kowloon Hospital.

To escaped during the confusion behind him, fast on his heels, was To Ching-yin, the old man's son.

It was stated that Wong Kai-cho drew his gun and fired on the old man, who dropped to the ground, outside.

He managed, however, to drag himself to the door of his home where he died in the arms of his wife.

In the commotion that ensued in the hall, Tsai Po, the alleged cause of the double tragedy, slipped quietly away and to this day, neither she nor her son or his friend can be traced despite persistent police investigations.

Manila Newsman Arrives In HK

Assigned to cover China, Mr. William P. H. Ma, special correspondent for the Manila Chronicle and the Evening Chronicle, has arrived in Hong Kong.

Mr. Ma met local newspapermen at a luncheon at the Hong Kong Hotel yesterday. The host was Mr. Hubert Wong G. Hui, President and General Manager of the Cosmo Acrotated Water Company, Limited, Castle Peak Road.

Mr. Ma will leave shortly for Canton, Shanghai and Nanking. He will attempt to visit Peking, now under the control of the Chinese Communists.

While the victim was dozing off, defendant struck at him. At first the victim thought defendant was fooling but later found he was bleeding.

The victim turned around and saw defendant holding a knife. Realizing that he was not fooling, he pushed defendant off the bed and both of them rolled on to the floor.

A constable came and picked up a knife in the passage way. After Chan Cheong had his evidence taken, the case was adjourned to March 22.

Unexpected End To Land Dispute

There was an unexpected ending to the land dispute before Mr. Justice Reynolds yesterday, when the defendants consented to judgment without opening their case.

The dispute was in respect of the sale and erection of buildings on a piece of land at Shumshuipo.

The plaintiffs were Lui Kiu-ying, Lui Fook-hong and Lui Kam-wah, merchants, executors of the will of Louis Leung, who originally bought the land from Government.

Louis Leung entered into an agreement with the defendants, Der Sing-chi and Tse Chak-sang, also merchants, on December 2nd, 1941, under which defendants were to put up buildings on the lot of a value of HK$20,000. The buildings were to be completed by April 2, 1942, in consideration of the title to the land and buildings was to be assigned to defendants.

Due to the intervention of the war, the buildings were never completed.

The plaintiffs, in their action, asked for a declaration that they, as executors of Louis Leung's estate, are the beneficial owners of the land, and also that defendants have no right or title or interest in the land. An order was sought for the removal from the Land Office Register of the registration of the agreement of December 2, 1941.

The plaintiffs were represented by Mr. Eldon Potter, KC, and Mr. Leo d'Almada, KC, and Mr. V. J. L. d'Alton was for the defendants.

The case opened on Thursday morning. On its resumption yesterday Mr. O'Alton informed the Court that the defendants had decided to consent to judgment.

Judgment was accordingly given by Mr. Justice Reynolds in terms of plaintiffs' claim.

The Government, a chartered, Sisywright plane, took off for Karachi yesterday, carrying 18 Indian prison, wardens from Stanley Prison.

CROSS-EXAMINATION OF MAY BY THE CROWN

A denial that he did not want the stores at the Hung Hom PWD depot to be well kept and recorded because he did not want it to be known if materials became missing, was made by Arthur Frederick May, electrical inspector Grade I, at the 10th hearing of the PWD larceny trial yesterday.

For a good part of the day May was subjected to an intensive cross-examination by Crown Counsel, which will continue on Monday morning.

Standing trial with May is Kwok Kwong, foreman. Both are of the Public Works Department, jointly charged with three counts of larceny by public servant and three counts of falsification of documents with intent to defraud the government.

Re-examining his evidence, from the witness stand, May gave further explanations on labour distribution. He told the court that the object of the Distribution Board at Hung Hom was to show the distribution of labour for all jobs on hand. It was also an indicator as to the progress of work. The board, he stated, was arranged in numerical order of the jobs. One could see at a glance the position of any job done on the Kowloon side.

Further details of the method of construction and arrangement of the Distribution Board as well as the procedure of making it up were given by May.

Accused further disclosed that there was auditing in January 1947 at Hung Hom. Except for a few particulars everything was found to be satisfactory. As a result of that, May said, he recommended that a suspense account be put on to give an accurate distribution of labour and also an accurate record of what was going on.

As regards stores accused revealed, the suspense account suggested by him had already been approved by the Secretary of State.

Inventory System

Turning to the system of inventories, May stated that when he came to Hung Hom after the war there were no inventories of electrical installations. In March, he said, he started his new system of taking inventories, which went on until the time the police raided the Hung Hom depot.

Under the system which he devised, accused went on materials were ordered from the Government stores at North Point for a particular job. When the job was completed an inventory was made out by the foreman. The occupant of the building then checked up the electrical installations against the inventory, after which he signed the inventory. Whenever any materials were left over from the job, he added, they were returned to the stores.

Replying to a query, May told the court that materials drawn from Warehouse depended on the number of men marked down for the particular job. If the job was an urgent one, as was the case at the Lai Chi Kok Hospital for instance, a greater number of men would be put on the job and the materials would be drawn in large quantities.

Accused was then questioned regarding instructions to the electrical staff, in the course of which he explained the various forms devised by him under the new system at Hung Hom. May also described at length how the daily labour distribution and job reports were made up under the system.

Asked to state his version of the affair at Lowbridge Shackleton and Company with regard to the two fluorescent lights installed there, May stated that one day he and Mr. Holtmeyer, the manager, were talking together at the latter's office.

May said he then remarked that the lights in the office were not very good and that Mr.

Holtmeyer should have better lights in his office. Mr. Holtmeyer said that he had had experience with certain fluorescent lights, to which May replied that he would see about getting a better kind of fluorescent lighting.

May went on to say that he later told Kwok Kwong about it, asking him to find somebody who could install two fluorescent lights at Prince's Building. He also described the type of shades required he claimed.

No Further Orders
"I never gave Kwok Kwong any further instructions on the matter," May added.

Kwok Kwong, May continued, never told him that he had installed the lights nor did he give him any receipts. In fact, he said, he did not know when the lights had been installed until he happened to be in Holtmeyer's office, where he saw the lights.

As regards Pokfulam, accused went on to relate his meeting with Dr. Thomas, a personal friend of his, who told him about some houses at Pokfulam which needed electrical repairs. It was then agreed to go over to Pokfulam to see the houses.

At the appointed time, May said, he met Dr. Thomas in front of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank building in his car, at the back of which sat Kwok Kwong, whom he had brought along.

"When we arrived at Pokfulam," May related, "we met Mrs. Thomas and her sister. I introduced Kwok to Mrs. Thomas as my foreman, telling her that Kwok was to recommend a contractor for the electrical job."

"We then proceeded to the premises. Dr. and Mrs. Thomas pointed out the various electrical points around the place, after which Kwok and I left."

Before that, May stated, Dr. Thomas had mentioned something about exorbitant prices to repair the house. May said he then remarked to Kwok Kwong that perhaps some of his men might like to do the work in their spare time and on Sundays. Kwok said he would ask the men.

Spare Time
The next thing he heard about the matter, accused said, was when Kwok came to him and said that the men were willing to do the work in their spare time.

Further questioned, May told the court that he had never at any time known that Government men were to work at Pokfulam on Government time.

Explaining into the matter, May told the court that Mr. Johnston and Mr. Macpherson were in his office when he arrived late in the day at Hung Hom. Macpherson, he stated, was sitting at his desk. Mr. Morrison, it is alleged, then rose and questioned him about the matter.

Accused said he explained the matter as far as he knew to his interlocutor. Macpherson, accused went on, then proceeded to take down a statement, writing away ahead of him and putting in words which were not May's words.

"I had not the chance of correcting because the first part of the statement was read out to me and I simply signed the whole lot," May declared. "It was inaccurate."

Replying to a question by Mr. Holtmeyer, accused agreed that the Pokfulam job was a job in which Kwok Kwong had deceived him. After further cross-examination, hearing was adjourned to 10 a.m. on Monday.

Further questioned by Kwok, May disclosed that he did not know which men were being put on the job, and that the only

AERIAL SEARCH POSTPONED

Mr. Harry W. Arnott, who has been looking for a runaway boat-earn since February 28, had to postpone yesterday's aerial search because of engine trouble. The 50-ton crane, which broke loose from its moorings and disappeared, is the object of a wide search by air and sea. It constitutes a serious menace to shipping.

Shanghai Dockyards Profit During 1948

The Shanghai Dockyards, Limited, made a profit of HK$1,684,803.83 during 1948, it was revealed at the company's annual meeting yesterday.

Mr. F. A. Pollock, chairman of the company, presided and was supported by Mr. G. E. Townley, ACA, Hon. secretary. The meeting was held in the Board Room of Messrs. Jardine Matheson & Co., Ltd.

The Directors Report and Accounts for the year ended September 30, last year, was read by the Chairman. In spite of the rising prices and currency depreciation, said Mr. Pollock, the Company had managed to steer clear of all shoals.

"To operate a Dockyard under these conditions is no easy matter," Mr. Pollock said, "and I am sure the shareholders will agree that the praise is due to the management for the satisfactory results achieved."

"I am pleased to be able to report that our Company is in as strong a position as ever to undertake ship and land repairs of all descriptions."

"I regret to inform the Company that Mr. T.H. Gwynne, the secretary, died while on sick leave in England, last year. Mr. G.E. Townley, ACA, who has taken Mr. Gwynne's place is carrying out the duties of the secretary."

"The spread of war to the Yangtze Valley will have its effect on our business, and it is, therefore, difficult to forecast what is in store for us."

The following were elected to serve on the board for the ensuing year: Mr. F.A. Pollock, chairman; Mr. G.E. Townley, ACA, Hon. secretary; Messrs. Lowe, Bingham & Thompsons, (Chartered Accountants), Messrs. J.A. Bonnyman, M.B.E., W.J. Hawkins, A.E. Marker, R.S. Larkin and K. Ross-Mackenzie, directors.

Among the shareholders present at the meeting were: Mr. F. C. Pei, representing the Shanghai and Commercial Savings Bank; Mr. J.F. Ansell, representing Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd.; Mr. S.H. Ash, representing the Hong Kong & Shanghai Banking Corporation; Mr. G.E. Marden, representing the Yangtze Finance Co., Ltd.; Wheelock Marden & Co., and W.J. Hawkins (by proxy); J.H. Hamm, representing K. Ross-Mackenzie (by proxy); Mr. T.D. Drysdale, representing the New Engineering Co., Ltd., and Messrs. A.R.D. Wilson and A. Ptery.

Mr. G.E. Marden, on behalf of the shareholders, expressed appreciation to the Chairman, Mr. F. A. Pollock, for his able and efficient management of the company during the past year.

Mr. Leo d'Almada, for the respondent, referred to the case of Mahuavalla where the Full Court upheld a judgment affirming an eviction order and that only tenants paying pecuniary rent were entitled to the protection of the Proclamation. Mr. d'Almada quoted another Full Court case where it was held that money paid by a tenant for repairs was not a pecuniary rent.

Mr. Justice Reynolds said he agreed with Mr. d'Almada and held that the letting of the premises was for the duration of the war only. There was no evidence that Kong had a monthly tenancy, and it must be inferred that he was only a tenant at will, which tenancy was terminated by the three-day notice served on him.

In the cross appeal by Ding Gow, the owner respondent, judgment was given in favour of Kong. The cross appeal was that Ding Tye, the attorney for Ding Gow, had no authority to delegate his authority to Ding Loy who let the premises to Kong. The contention was that the power of attorney was not executed when Ding Gow and Ding Tye were divided by the line of war, Ding Gow having gone to America.

The Court held that Ding Loy was an agent of necessity and was empowered to let the premises. As both appeal and cross appeal were dismissed, no order was made as to costs.

Dangerous Nonsense

Sir, I replied to Mr. Silva only because he introduced the name of the Governor into a political letter in a manner which seemed to me objectionable. His reference to "the admirable government of Hong Kong, democratic to a fault" made plain also the object of his letter. It struck me as being dangerous nonsense. Sycophancy and nonsense need not be mixed.

SEE WHAT VULCAIN HAD TO ACHIEVE TO PRODUCE

A Wrist Watch That RINGS!

To contrive an alarm wrist-watch, VULCAIN had to solve the following problems, simultaneously:

1. Make the alarm ring loud and long enough so as to awake any sleeper; in other words, have a ringing similar to that of a large size alarm-clock.
2. Include in the very small space of a wrist-watch the triple device combining movement, alarm and bell altogether.
3. Secure the various functions, such as: winding up the watch-movement, winding up the alarm, setting the hour and minute hands, setting the alarm hand, blocking up the bell hammer, without using numerous pushers or winders that could hardly be located around the caseband of a wrist-watch. Only one pusher has been provided on the CRICKET watch to control the aforesaid operations.
4. The handling of this watch was to remain extremely simple.
5. The VULCAIN manufacturers were bound to complete these noteworthy advantages by adding reliability and accuracy. The official Rating Certificate duly vouches for the result obtained.
6. The movement was to remain perfectly dust-proof.
7. Last but not least the CRICKET outline was to vie in beauty with the "new-look" of a sport and modern wrist-watch.

"The Authority on Authorities"

DON'T BLACKWOOD THEN PLAYERS equipped with the Blackwood convention should not use it on all hands that seem slammy. There are situations in which it is better to jump at once to the slam and others in which it is advisable to employ a different method of obtaining slam information. The most specific of these comes when the slam-inquirer is void of some one suit, so that knowing about its ace would be unimportant, if not valueless. Then it sometimes is better to invite slam with a bid of five in the agreed suit, sometimes by cue-bidding a suit.

But suppose South had held a hand of at least as much total power as this, with the same distribution, but lacking the top control of one of his three suits. Then it would have been better, over North's 3-Spades, to cue-bid the clubs in case the diamonds ace interested him, or diamonds if he wanted to know about the heart ace. If North in response bid the suit containing the required ace, South could have gone to slam, refraining from it if North could not give the desired response.

There was not much sense to East's double. The only influence was to help South make an extra trick. The diamond 2, 8, Q and A first trick was followed by the diamond K, spade 10-J-Q, heart A, heart Q, cover bid the clubs in case the diamonds ace interested him, or diamonds if he wanted to know about the heart ace. If North in response bid the suit containing the required ace, South could have gone to slam, refraining from it if North could not give the desired response.

SORE THROATS are about!

Reports are that they are very prevalent. Here is the quick and effective way to deal with them.

for Soothing Relief!

ASPRO and HONEY

Simply mix three crushed 'ASPRO' tablets with a teaspoonful of honey and there, in a minute, you have an easy-to-take, soothing and effective treatment for sore throat. The honey provides a smooth coating on the throat, and, owing to its firm consistency, allows the tiny particles of 'ASPRO' to remain in contact with the affected part for a long time thus enabling the analgesic properties of 'ASPRO' to have their maximum effect. The dose should be repeated every two hours until soreness is relieved.

ANOTHER TREATMENT for SORE THROAT

Another method of relieving sore throat, and one which is as effective as the 'ASPRO' and honey treatment, is to use a little water to make a gargle. Three 'ASPRO' tablets should be dissolved in a little water and used as a gargle. This gives excellent results. The treatment should be repeated every two hours, if necessary.

Cabinet Approval Of Atlantic Pact Draft

London, March 10.

The Cabinet today formally approved the final draft of the Atlantic Pact. The Foreign Secretary, Mr. Ernest Bevin, personally laid the draft before the Cabinet.

All the North Atlantic Union Governments are expected to have approved the pact by the end of this week, making it possible to publish the text early next week. Mr. Lester Pearson, Canadian External Affairs Minister, announced in Ottawa today.

"The expectation now is that the conference for the signature of the pact will be held early in April. Earlier, it appeared that such a conference would be in Bermuda, but now it is almost certain to be in Washington," he added.

Mr. Pearson said the Canadian Cabinet decided at a meeting today to go over the text of the pact clause by clause, but he does not expect there would be any changes in the text as received from Washington.

"The nations that will sign this pact," he added, "are States that work together, have confidence in each other and believe in the same things."

Financing Arms

Military legislation to back up the North Atlantic Pact will reach Congress about the same time as the pact itself, the U.S. State Department spokesman said in Washington today.

It is understood authoritatively that in addition to members of the pact, arms will be financed for areas whose stability affects the security of the United States. These countries include Greece, Turkey, Persia and the Philippines.

The spokesman of the State Department, Mr. Michael McDermott, said: "Our representatives of the National Military Establishment, the Economic Cooperation Administration and the State Department have been working on the draft military assistance legislation, which should be ready to go to Congress about the same time on the pact."

"At present, the programme is not firm enough to warrant a reliable estimate on its costs."

Danish Attitude

Dr. Gustav Rasmussen, the Danish Foreign Minister, arrived in the United States today to explore the possibility of Denmark joining the pact.

Asked whether the Danish people are in favour of joining the Alliance, Dr. Rasmussen replied: "Yes." He believes it very unlikely that discussions on a Scandinavian Alliance will be reopened.

The Danish Foreign Minister will take back to his Parliament from Washington a copy of the treaty. He will also take information about the kind of aid which Denmark can expect.

Particular interest is attached in Washington to the adherence of Denmark to the pact because of the strategic importance of Greenland—a Danish possession.

Use Of Bases

The United States has the use of bases in Greenland under a wartime treaty still in force. The assumption is that if Denmark joins the Alliance, the use of the bases by other members of the Alliance will be a matter for discussion in the various collective security institutions to be set up under the pact.

A Danish spokesman in Washington emphasised that there has never been any discussion and no such discussion is contemplated of the bases to be provided in Denmark itself, except in the event of an attack or the threat of an attack. Dr. Rasmussen said that before Denmark commits herself, the pact must be debated in Parliament. "The idea of my coming here is to contact the United States Government to enable my Government to have a solid basis for submitting the matter to Parliament."

Princesses At Old Bailey

London, March 10.

Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret sat in London's Central Criminal Court today and heard a story of attempted murder and a police car chase through London's West End.

In the dock were two young men charged with attempted murder of two policemen, by running them down with a van alleged to have been stolen.

"This was the first visit by any of the Royal Family to the Central Criminal Court since the Princesses' grandfather, King Edward VII, opened the building in 1907," Reuter.

THE FOOD
OUTLOOK
NOT GOOD

Manila, March 11.

Mr. Norris E. Dodd, Director-General of the Food and Agricultural Organisation, said today that the world food outlook is not so good.

Mr. Dodd arrived here by plane from Bangkok, where he attended the opening sessions of the International Rice Commission.

The Director, who has toured European and Asian countries, said there are few exceptions to the generally dark food picture. Most countries lack food reserves to carry them through emergencies, he said, adding that Siam and the Philippines are possible exceptions to this group.

Mr. Dodd is expected to leave for Hong Kong on Sunday after studying the Philippine food situation. He plans to visit Shanghai and Tokyo and possibly Australia before returning to the United States.—United Press.

DANCER FOUND NOT GUILTY

Hollywood, March 11.

A jury of eight men and four women today took only one hour and seven minutes to acquit the dancer, Vickie Evans, of conspiracy to possess marijuana.

The blonde dancer was the only one of four persons arrested at the hillside home she occupied with the starlet, Lila Leeds, to win acquittal on dope charges. The film star, Robert Mitchum, Lila Leeds and a real estate man were all convicted.—United Press.

BEVIN DISCUSSES DEFENCE WITH TURKISH ENVOY

London, March 10.

Mr. Ernest Bevin, the Foreign Secretary, discussed regional defence arrangements with the Turkish Ambassador, Mr. Cavat Acikallim, at the Foreign Office today.

They discussed:—1.—Reported Soviet moves in Ankara, and Turkey's attitude to membership of a possible Mediterranean regional defence pact.

2.—The issue of a declaration concerning Turkey, Greece and Iran by the United States, Britain and France on the occasion of the signing of the Atlantic Union.

It has been common knowledge that the question of some Western declaration of policy covering Turkey and Greece—both of whom receive American aid—and possibly Iran, to coincide with the signing of the Atlantic Union, has been under consideration.

The exclusion of Turkey from the powers taking part in the forthcoming London talks on setting up a European Council may also have been discussed.

The Turkish Foreign Minister, Mr. Neziraddin Sadak, told Reuter in London recently that he had hoped the fact that the Brussels treaty powers, in their initiative for closer European unity, had invited only the Western European powers to discuss the creation of a European Council does not mean that a new division would be created in a Europe already split by the Iron Curtain.

The invitations to Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Italy and Eire on Monday to attend the London talks on the proposed council of Europe may have decided Ankara to make a formal demarche in London to register Turkish disappointment at her exclusion from the present United Europe discussions.

Wants Pact

In Istanbul, the Turkish Foreign Minister, Mr. N. Sadak, said that Turkey wants a Mediterranean pact.

Returning from London and Paris, Mr. Sadak said, he had conferred with the Greek Foreign Minister, Mr. Constantine Tsaldaris, and that they had found conformity in their views.

"It is Turkey's aim that an agreement capable of ensuring peace and security in the important region of Europe should be reached but there is nothing positive for the moment," Mr. Sadak said.

Turkey's idea of a Mediterranean regional defence pact would bring in Greece, Italy, France, Great Britain and, perhaps later, Spain, Mr. Tsaldaris last year proposed a union with Middle Eastern countries, particularly Egypt, but at that time received no support anywhere.

Mr. Sadak and Mr. Tsaldaris are believed to favour the union of a Mediterranean pact with the North Atlantic Pact and hence to gain in effect what they desire most—a definite military tie with America.

Mr. Sadak made no comment on published reports that the Russian Ambassador, Mr. Alexander Lavrishev, had approached the Turkish Foreign Office expressing concern over any projected Mediterranean pact but important Government spokesmen have denied categorically that any official approach has been made.

Russian Policy

It is possible that in the course of conversations, Mr. Lavrishev might have brought up the subject.

Mr. Sadak said that only time will show whether the replacement of V.M. Molotov by A. Vishinsky can bring any change in Russian policy towards Turkey.—Reuter and Associated Press.

BRITAIN TO SUPPORT ARABS

IMPASSE IN AUSTRIAN PACT TALKS

London, March 10. The month-old Austrian peace treaty talks here were threatened with collapse today after unyielding statements by the Yugoslav and Austrian delegates.

Diplomatic observers in London believe they can be saved only if Russia makes an 11th hour move withdrawing her support from Yugoslavia's claims against Austria.

The conference adjourned until tomorrow after reaching a deadlock.

This followed the decision of the three Western Powers to back Austria's rejection of frontier changes and reparations payments, and to oppose, in varying degrees, Yugoslavia's demand for the creation of a Slavonic autonomous area inside Austria.

KARENS OCCUPY MAYMYO

Rangoon, March 10. Karen rebels have occupied Maymyo, the Burmese Army centre near Mandalay, and fighting is taking place 21 miles North of Mandalay itself, an official communiqué stated here tonight.

Government troops withdrew Southward from Maymyo and the nearby strip of Anisakan after a Karen counter-offensive, the communiqué says.

The communiqué claims that Government troops have encircled rebel forces at Myittha, a rail town seven miles South of Mandalay.

The evacuation of British Services Mission personnel from Maymyo will be completed tonight on the arrival here of another Royal Air Force plane carrying more members.

The officer in charge of the evacuation said a British doctor and his wife have volunteered to remain in Maymyo to attend to Britons in the hospital there.

Earlier today, five more officers and a number of enlisted men were taken by air to Rangoon.

MORE CHANGES IN RUSSIA

London, March 10. Radio Moscow today said that M. Rodionov has been re-elected from his post as chairman of the Council of Ministers, or Premier, of the Russian Socialist Federal Soviet Republic, largest unit in the Soviet Union.

The broadcast said that B.N. Chernousov has been named as his successor.

The Russian Republic comprises 6,000,000 square miles and has a population of 109,270,000 according to the 1939 census figures.

Rodionov was named Premier of the Russian Republic in March 1946.

Will Fulfil Obligations Under 1948 Alliance

AKABA FIGHTING

London, March 10. The British Government intends to carry out its treaty obligations under the Anglo-Transjordan Treaty, the Secretary of State for Commonwealth Relations, Mr. Philip Noel Baker, declared in the House of Commons today.

He would not make a statement about the present position in the Transjordan port of Akaba, where British troops are stationed.

"I think I had better not do that," he said, "I had better leave it to the Foreign Secretary."

The Deputy Speaker (Major James Milner) said he did not think the question of order arose.

Captain Harry Crookshank asked if the Minister could make any statement on the present position in view of the rather alarming statements in some newspapers today.

Mr. Noel Baker replied: "I think I had better not do that. I had better leave it to the Foreign Secretary."

The Minister made his statement during question time when he told the House of Commons that the British Government had informed the Commonwealth Governments of its decision to send a force to Akaba.

They were told that this had been done in response to the request of the Transjordan Government, made under the terms of the British treaty with Transjordan, he said.

"As the other Commonwealth Governments are not parties to this treaty, no question of inviting them to participate arose," he added.

Dr. Samuel Segal, Labour, had asked which of the Dominions were notified of Britain's intention to land a task force at Akaba, and how many were invited to take part.

Dr. Segal: "Since we were glad of the support of the Dominions in this area during the war, ought we not to take heed of their advice in this matter?"

Quite Plain

"Does he (the Minister) not realise that any isolated military action of our own in this area now is either likely to protect the puppet state of Transjordan or intimidate anyone else?"

Mr. Noel Baker: "If the Commonwealth Governments gave us advice we would gladly listen to it, but we never received any advice. Dr. Segal would require that an ally should be protected against aggression if it occurred within the terms of the treaty."

Lord Winterston, Conservative, asked if the Minister would make it perfectly clear that Britain intends to carry out her treaty obligations whatever the opposition may be from those who have racial affiliations with Israel.

Mr. Noel Baker: "It is quite plain that the British Government do intend to carry out their treaty obligations."

Mr. John Lewis, Labour, asked if Lord Winterston was in order after Mr. Segal had raised a question in the interests of the House to say that the reason the question was put down was to further racial affiliations with another country.

Rather Alarming

Lord Winterston: "I said nothing of the sort. The words I used were that we should carry out our treaty obligations irrespective of the opposition of those who have racial affiliations."

A Labour Member, Mr. Leslie Judah Solley, shouted from the back Government benches: "Go and join Mosley." (Sir Oswald Mosley was leader of the British Union of Fascists before the war).

Financial Talks With Israel

London, March 9. The Foreign Secretary, Ernest Bevin, today told the House of Commons that there has been no delay in opening financial talks with Israel, because no date has been fixed.

He said that many economic and financial problems to be discussed are being examined by the British Government.

A Labour member said that Israel is rapidly becoming a hard currency area, and the only result of delays will be a loss to Britain, in the Middle East of many millions of pounds in hard currency markets.

Mr. Bevin answered: "This financial business is not all one-sided." —United Press.

Heavy Fighting

It was officially learned in Amman, the Transjordan capital, tonight that heavy fighting is still taking place near Akaba, the British-garrisoned port in the Southern tip of Transjordan.

A small mechanised column reported to be proceeding parallel with the Egyptian-Palestine borders reached Un Reshresh a small village about 10 miles North West of Akaba. The column was successfully barred at that point by Arab Legion forces and finally repulsed.

The fighting seems to be widespread and breaking out at different places. The Israelis seem determined to attain a strategic base on the Red Sea.

Becoming Heavier

Their campaign, started on March 7 and is becoming heavier every hour. Their main column crossing the Akaba

Son's Effort To Vindicate Father

Karachi, March 10.

A youthful Briton has arrived in Pakistan determined to clear his father's name.

He is Anthony Neville Stack, aged 28, whose father, the famous British airman, Captain Neville Stack, was knocked down and killed by a truck last month.

An official inquiry is to be held here tomorrow into the death.

It was following a suggestion by the police here that his father had killed himself, that young Stack flew from England.

Mr. Stack said today that after making widespread inquiries into the circumstances of his father's death he is quite convinced that he had not committed suicide.

Captain Stack, who was General Manager of Orient Airways, a Pakistan owned company, had been told by the police to remain in Karachi pending inquiries into the sale of a Dakota aircraft.

But, as a result of investigations he made here, his son is satisfied that his father acted honestly.

The son told Reuter today that the police here have been helpful and most polite.

The Karachi magistrate had readily agreed to postpone the date of the inquiry from today until tomorrow, so that his elder brother, Squadron Leader Thomas Neville Stack, should have an opportunity to attend.

Squadron Leader Stack, who is flying to Karachi, has been held up by bad weather and is expected here later today.

Anthony Stack has decided to have no legal representative at the enquiry.

Bunche Warning To Jews And Arabs

Rhodes, March 10. Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting United Nations Mediator for Palestine, tonight warned Israel and Transjordan that he will charge them with a breach of the Security Council's cease fire resolutions if either side carries on military activities in the Akaba area of Southern Palestine.

Dr. Bunche's warning followed complaints by Transjordan of Jewish land and air activities inside Arab Legion territory in the area North of the Red Sea, where the frontiers of Transjordan and Palestine meet.

Transjordan charged that Jewish troops, equipped with jeeps and armoured vehicles, had penetrated to within 35 kilometres of the town of Akaba.

SENATORS WANT AID FOR CHINA

Washington, March 11. Fifty Senators today asked the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for action on a bill by Senator Pat McCarran, Nevada Democrat, to set up an aid plan for Nationalist China.

The 50 Senators, more than a majority of the Senate, signed a letter written by Mr. McCarran and addressed to the Committee's Chairman, Mr. Tom Connally, Texas Democrat.

McCarran's bill would provide up to $1,500,000,000 of economic and military aid to Nationalist China through the sale of Export Import Bank notes.

Of this total, $500,000,000 would be in credits to the Government, $300,000,000 in economic assistance and $700,000,000 for military supplies.

In his letter, Mr. McCarran asserted "A policy of defeatism or a passive attitude of New Zealandism, when democracy is in the balance, is not in keeping with the best American tradition."

The Nevada Senator contended that it is up to Congress, in the final analysis, to shape this country's policies.

He said the matter is not one upon which Congress must wait some request from the executive branch of the Government before it can proceed.

The Secretary of State, Mr. Dean Acheson, has been quoted as telling a group of House Republicans recently that the State Department waits to wait until the dust settles before deciding what to do about the Communist threat to overrun the Nationalist Government.

TB TREATMENT

Zurich, March 10. A canvass of leading Swiss tuberculosis specialists discloses that they almost unanimously favour mass vaccinations with the bacillus Calmette Guérin, known as BCG.

The vaccine is now obligatory for all doctors and nurses who come in contact with tubercular patients. It is being strongly recommended, however, to all other personnel in TB sanatoriums.

MOTORING NEWS AND VIEWS

New Buick Fitted With Dynaflo Drive Device

By Our Motoring Editor
After a pleasant cruise round the island highways on Wednesday in one of the latest liners to come down the Buick slipways I was faintly disappointed to find that they are still using wheels on these vehicles. They seem anachronistic beside some of the other features of the car.

Both Mr. N. Buerlin, manager of China International Motors Limited (Buick representatives), and his service manager Mr. Halligan, who were present on Wednesday's jaunt, appeared at first to have only one topic of conversation—the new Dynaflo drive with which the car is fitted. And well they might have.

However, it seems certain that before any chat about engines begins the general public will insist on an explanation of those curious chromium-tipped holes which appear near the tops of the front mudguards just forward of the front doors. Stand by for disillusionment. They are not outlets for Jato tubes to give jet-assisted take-off; nor are they pre-fab homes for gremlins as one Air Force gentleman has suggested; they are not even connected with the exhaust. If we must face the facts they are there to give the car a distinctive appearance, though there is a rather specious explanation offered that they provide a means of escape for the engine-coolant which would otherwise over-heat the passenger compartment.

Oil Takes Over

Now, let's get on with the Dynaflo. In case there is anyone around who understands these matters here is Mr. Halligan's explanation of the new device.

"The heart of Dynaflo drive," he said, "is a specially-designed torque converter consisting of a pump, a turbine and a super-charging assembly all rotating in an oil-filled drum. This drum is located where the usual transmission is located on conventional cars. And through it, the power plant adjusts itself to give quick, strong drive for fast starts, extra pull for acceleration or hill-climbing, and smooth, easy power delivery for cruising."

"What the Buick engineers have done is to produce a device in which all replaces both the clutch and the three or four forward-speed changes of the transmission."

What Dynaflo actually means to you and I is this. You leap nimbly into the driver's seat, noting (with a little prompting from the salesman) that the massive door is cunningly designed to swing open and shut at finger-tip pressure. Once there you are faced with a steering wheel behind which is a lever connected to a pointer which travels over a small panel marked with the letters P, N, D, L, R.

As the pointer is probably set at P for parking or N for neutral you go right ahead and switch on, starting the engine by depressing the accelerator pedal. It will not start if the pointer is at any of the other positions.

No Changing

With the engine running you move the indicator to D for driving range, release the hand-brake by pulling a little knob (it is applied by foot-pressure on a pedal), press the accelerator, and you're away.

Here is the whole point. Provided you are not sniggering with a climb to climb the side of a house, get yourself out of a bog or a quicksand or travel backwards you need do nothing from beginning to end of your journey but control the speed of the car with foot-brake and accelerator.

The D position allows you to climb all but the steepest hills, stop, start again, accelerate smartly, all without any change in the position. The L position for extreme load and R for reverse come into play only under the special conditions for which they are provided.

There is no doubt that the performance of the Dynaflo unit conforms with the claims of the manufacturers. For the rest, the car is what one would expect of a Buick. It is magnificently comfortable, has easy, responsive steering, contains all the fittings (including a very fine radio) to make life on the road easy and pleasant.

1950 Cars Being Secretly Tested

Cars of 1950 are being tested in secret on a former Transport Command airfield at Lindley, near Nuneaton, Warwickshire, where the first national car proving ground in the world has been established.

The proving ground is being built on an airfield by the Motor Industry Research Association, which are financed two-thirds by their industry and one-third by Government. Mr. A. O. Dolby, aged 30, a former REME captain, is in charge. It is to be opened officially early in April.

Today it is by no means complete but already motor firms are testing in ideal conditions. The first cars to be tested will be the new models for the October Motor show.

The sum of £1,000,000 is to be spent making the proving ground better than even those possessed by one or two American car manufacturers. It is being equipped with stretches representing every road surface in the world, water and mud splashes, skid areas, high speed and average speed circuits and scientific laboratories.

Ford Predicts Car Price

The inevitability of a new pay increase, with consequent raising of prices, is a topic brought into the open recently by Henry Ford II. This is a subject generally avoided by industrial leaders in America, although further wage increases have long been regarded by labour as unavoidable under present conditions.

Mr. Ford considers that for the first time since the end of the war, manufacturers cannot be sure that they can pass higher wages on to the consumer in the way of higher prices.

It is Mr. Ford's opinion that, while certain industries such as steel, oil, chemicals and automobiles with high earnings and a strong demand for products may find ground for compromise, the position of industries in which consumer resistance is already being felt suggests trouble ahead if and when organised labour tables its demand for the general increase.

CAR HEATERS

As a consequence of the export drive, particularly to North America, it has been impressed on British car and accessory manufacturers that if heaters are to be sold as an integral part of a car they must be capable of maintaining warmth inside the car under extreme conditions, such as are met in Canada and parts of America.

Smiths Motor Accessories, Ltd., recently dispatched a party to Norway with the object of obtaining accurate "operation" data at very low temperatures, while another heater manufacturer, Delmar, Galley, Ltd., obtained similar data with the refrigerating plant installed in their research laboratory. As a result of such investigation the heating systems produced by them and by other concerns with equivalent facilities, should be capable of coping with the most arduous conditions in all parts of the world.

In addition there are a number of other concerns that produce less elaborate heaters which are suitable for normal winter conditions in England and those countries which enjoy similar climatic conditions.

New 'Rocket' Valve

Cross section of the "Rocket" valve in the head of the new Oldsmobile V-8 engine. Comparison of this with the Cadillac engine shown below will show similar basic design but many differences in detail, such as water jacketing, connecting rods, pistons, carburettor etc. Both are designed for easy servicing.

1949 Oldsmobile To Go On Display

On Monday in the Gloucester Arcade Triangle Motors will display the first of the new series of Oldsmobile for 1949. Two new engines and the adoption of new Futuramic styling for all cars are the outstanding features of the Oldsmobile story for this year.

In the engine line a high compression V-8 overhead valve model is supplied for the larger cars, and a larger in-line six for smaller models. The number of cars in the series has now been reduced to three, the 98 and the 76.

Appearance of the 98 series cars is altered in detail from that of 1948 when Futuramic styling was first introduced. Series 76, however, is for all practical purposes new.

The new V-8 engine has been named "Rocket," starts at 7.25 to one compression ratio, and will, in time, be raised to 12 to one whenever fuels permitting such a ratio are available. Only minor mechanical changes will be needed. Ultimate fuel saving will be about 1/3 states the manufacturer.

Six Types

Series 76 will come as a club coupe, club sedan, four-door sedan, four-door town sedan, convertible and station wagon. They are trimmed either standard or de luxe, with variations in upholstery and accessories. Station wagon is de luxe only.

Series 98 is built as a club coupe, four-door sedan and convertible, trimmed standard or de luxe. Series 98 cars have Hydra-matic drive on all models; it is still optional on the 76 cars.

In the new Fisher body for Oldsmobile, leg-room for rear seat passengers has been increased nearly two inches through the development of a new type of spring for the front seat, which provides greater clearance over the floor.

The springs, instead of being the conventional coil type, have a zig-zag construction that measures up to the strictest tests for strength and durability as well as for comfort.

The New HUMBER SUPER SNIPE

A FULL SIX SEATER
5-TO-80-M.P.H.
IN TOP GEAR

Setting the pace in performance, comfort & style

An outstanding new model of a famous British marque with exceptional seating and luggage accommodation. The new Humber Super Snipe combines speed and acceleration and brilliant top gear performance with superb road holding. A car in which high average speeds can be maintained with effortless comfort. Independent front suspension, synchromatic gear control, high efficiency steering, perfect vision and powerful brakes all contribute to a standard of safety and control in keeping with its outstanding performance. The handsome modern styling of the new Super Snipe maintains the Humber tradition of dignity and distinction.

MAKERS OF THE SUPERIOR QUALITY PRODUCTS

PRESENTS ITS GREATEST ENGINEERING ACHIEVEMENT IN 45 YEARS

In keeping with its 45-year tradition of working always for the ultimate in performance, this year, a new motor car engine, totally new in design and performance—the highest development yet attained in automotive power plants—this new engine is designed to give exceptionally high power output, strikingly better road performance, smoother, quieter operation, longer life, and increased fuel economy. The new 180 horsepower Cadillac power plant is a compact, V-type, 8-cylinder engine of valve-in-head design, with relatively large bore and short stroke. Basically, this new, simpler, lighter engine is designed to take full advantage of the higher octane fuels which are expected in the years to come. After years of research in the laboratory and on the road, Cadillac presents this basic achievement in better motoring as a worthy successor to the finest performing motor car engine in the world. A few minutes with your own foot on the accelerator will prove to you that Cadillac has given the world a new standard for automotive engines.

BRITISH ARMY IS IN TRANSITIONAL STAGE

London, March 10.

The British Army is going through a transitional stage, in which the vital planning factor is carrying out the commitments of the defence of the Western Union.

Mr. Emanuel Shinwell, Secretary for War, said this in the House of Commons today when introducing the Army Estimates.

Should mobilisation be necessary in the near future, he said, Britain will have available a substantial number of men who served in the war and are on reserve.

Later, when the conscripts pass into the Territorial Army, the reserves will total well over 500,000, and trained up to date.

Mr. Shinwell asked the House to vote £304,700,000 for the Army for the coming year, compared with £300,000,000 (including a supplementary request for £55,000,000) for the current year.

The British troops in Malaya are fighting in conditions as bad as can be experienced anywhere but they are performing their tasks with great vigour, Mr. Shinwell said.

In June, 1948, the civil authorities in Malaya, faced with a campaign to overthrow the administration and to dislocate the economic life of the country, asked the Army to assist in maintaining order, he said.

"Some thousands of well-armed Chinese, operating from bases deep in the jungle, were following a systematic policy of murder and intimidation, together with the destruction of buildings, machinery and rubber plantations.

"Since June, in addition to the 4th Hussars and other reinforcements, the Guards Brigade has been sent from the United Kingdom. It was naturally some time before these reinforcements could be acclimatised but they are now operating with much efficiency against an enemy who is favoured with every military factor, except that of equipment and supply.

"In such circumstances, a very high state of efficiency in the use of weapons, in physical fitness and personal courage is necessary. The living conditions for our troops, even when not in action, are not as satisfactory as I should like, although every attempt is being made to improve them.

"When they are in action, the conditions are, I am advised, as bad as can be experienced anywhere. Nevertheless, in the face of all these difficulties, our troops are performing their part with great vigour."

Summer Manoeuvres

Mr. Shinwell said that the need of the other Western Union countries for equipment to train their forces is so urgent that Britain may have to draw substantially on her own reserves.

Britain has already offered certain types of equipment surplus to her immediate needs, he added.

Mr. Shinwell said: "The most valuable contribution we can make to further the Western Union Pact is by providing the most up-to-date equipment for our own forces and by pushing on research and development to ensure that these forces and, indeed, all the forces of the Western Union, are assured of every advantage which modern science and production can give."

Mr. Shinwell said the British Army intends to restart training exercises on a formation level this summer. In the autumn it will carry out a large-scale exercise with troops in the British Army on the Rhine.

Mr. Reginald Paget, Labour, said Western Europe today requires a force of at least 20 really efficient mobile divisions. As far as he can ascertain, the available divisions in Western Europe are: France—five in France and two in Africa, Belgium—three, Holland—probably about two.

Mr. Paget said that Britain, in terms of immediately available divisions, ran at this moment do very little indeed.

If War Comes

Mr. Frederick Bellenger, another Labour Member and a former War Minister, said he is a little disturbed at the handing over of some British reserve equipment to the other Western Union nations.

He hoped that the British Army, if regular recruiting is successful, will not find itself in a poor position for modern equipment.

For the opposition, Mr. Anthony Head, chairman of the Conservative Party's Army Committee, said the Army Britain is designing can never be up to a very high standard.

He asked how is it that with £305 million and 550,000 men there are so few formations and units that can fight. Mr. Head declared that in the event of a war the fate of Western Europe will be settled in the first few months.—Reuter.

Mountbatten Inheritance Tax Bill

London, March 10.

Lady Mountbatten will probably have to spend between £400 and £500 on the bill she is to introduce to Parliament to free herself from inheritance restrictions, lawyers estimated.

The figure is based on the assumption that the bill will be unopposed.

Trustees of the £6,000,000 estate by Ernest Cassel to his grand-daughter, Lady Mountbatten, and others in 1921 see no reason to oppose the bill.

Its object is to give Lady Mountbatten greater personal control over her £1,000,000 share in the fortune because of increased taxation.

Restrictions in the bequest prevent her from touching the capital, or borrowing on future income.

The bill will be presented to Parliament with a petition and examined by various committees before it is introduced to the House of Lords and then the Commons.—Reuter.

JULIANA BACK

Amsterdam, March 10.

Queen Juliana returned today with her youngest daughter, Princess Maryke, from a short holiday in Sankt Anton, Austrian Tyrol.

Affairs of state prevented her from staying longer with her husband, Prince Bernhard, and her daughters, Princesses Beatrix, Irene and Margriet. Prince Bernhard is reported to be slightly unwell.—Associated Press.

Fox Hunters Get Breather

London, March 10.

A Private Member's Bill to prohibit the traditional sport of fox hunting was withdrawn in the House of Commons today after Government assurance that a committee will be set up to inquire into cruelty to wild animals.

Mr. Herbert Morrison, Deputy Premier, said the Government thinks a case exists for investigation by a suitable committee.

The bill, which had led to considerable controversy in the press, was accordingly withdrawn.—Reuter.

SIDNEY STANLEY'S FUTURE

London, March 10.

The Home Secretary, Mr. Clutter Ede, told the House of Commons today that he will not consider sending Mr. Sidney Stanley to Israel until the Polish authorities in Warsaw decide whether he can be admitted as a Polish citizen.

Mr. Stanley, a Jew, was a central figure in the recent public investigation of activities of contact men allegedly obtaining favours from several Ministries. A pre-war deportation order against Mr. Stanley had never been executed and efforts are being made to determine whether Polish-born Stanley is a Polish citizen.

In reply to a question, Mr. Ede said he hopes for a report from the Polish Government soon.

A Labour member, Mr. Will Nelly, asked whether the matter will be taken up with the Israeli Government in view of the fact the Stanley has sought permission to enter Palestine.

Mr. Ede said he understands Stanley is a Pole and that he will await a Polish decision before considering whether an approach should be made to any other Government.—Associated Press.

Aussies After British Plant

Melbourne, March 10.

Four chief engineers from Australia's State Electrical Commission are leaving for Britain this week-end to buy £2,400,000 worth of electrical coal briquetting plant.

If British firms cannot supply the orders in time they will be placed in Switzerland and Germany.

The engineers plan to spend another £2,400,000 on special brown coal briquetting plant in the Anglo-American zones of Germany.—Reuter.

U.S. Walk-Out At UN Meeting

Lake Success, March 10.

The United States delegate to the UN Economic and Social Council stormed out of the meeting today when the Polish delegate referred to U.S. General John Hodge as the gauleiter for Korea.

The U.S. representative, Leroy Stinebower, interrupting the speech being made by Julius Katz-Suchy of Poland, stood up and said: "I and my delegation will not sit at this meeting while these types of insults continue."

He returned after Mr. Katz-Suchy finished his speech. The deputy U.S. representative, Mr. Walter Kolschig, accompanied Mr. Stinebower in the walk-out.

It is the first time an American delegate has walked out of a UN session in this manner. It recalls the walk-out of Russia's Andrei Gromyko in the Spring of 1946 during the Security Council debate of the Iranian question.

Today's incident took place while the Economic and Social

RUSSIA SPENDING MORE ON HER DEFENCE FORCES

Moscow, March 11.

The Finance Minister, A. G. Zverev, told Parliament last night that the Soviet Union plans to spend almost 20 per cent more on her armed forces this year than last year.

The new figure is 79,000,000,000 rubles. This is the equivalent of £3,750,000,000 by the Russian official exchange rate.

He announced the largest budget in the Soviet Union's history.

It provides for revenues of 445,208,000,000 rubles during the current calendar year. Expenditures will be 415,355,000,000 rubles. This will leave a 30,000,000,000 surplus.

Corresponding figures last year were: revenues 408,400,000,000, expenditures 368,800,000,000, surplus 39,600,000,000.

Zverev revealed that the Government spent 66 billion rubles on her armed forces last year. (A budget proposing total expenditures of $41,858,000,000, including $14,300,000,000 for her armed forces, is pending in the United States Congress. The British military budget calls for £784,750,000.)

(No exact comparison is possible between the military budgets of the three great powers on available information.)

Peace Policy

This is because of varying cost factors, the different items included in the military budgets of the various nations, and insufficient information on these factors in Russia.

Zverev's announcement to Parliament (the Supreme Soviet) was made in the presence of the Prime Minister, Joseph Stalin, the First Deputy Prime Minister, V. M. Molotov, the Deputy Prime Minister, A. I. Mikoyan, and other high Soviet officials.

The Parliamentary session gave no indication of last week's Cabinet shift which relieved Mr. Molotov of his duties as Foreign Minister and Mr. Mikoyan of his job as Minister of Foreign Trade. Both accompanied Stalin upon the tribune.

Zverev said much of the increase in expenditures for the armed forces is accounted for by higher wholesale costs, due to the abolition of state subsidies. "The Soviet Union's policy of world peace will continue," he declared.

Attack On West

The Finance Minister then delivered a sharp attack on the United States. He blamed America for the present troubled international situation.

Until States military expenditures in this year's budget are 15 times higher than they were in 1937, Zverev said. He also criticized Britain for increasing military expenditures.

The budget was read at a joint session of the two Houses—the Council of Union and the Council of Nationalities. Parliament had convened a few hours earlier for sessions which may give the world a clue to Russia's intentions.—Associated Press.

SOUTH AFRICAN DEFICIT

Pretoria, March 10.

During January, 1949, South Africa spent £18,400,568 more than her income, official figures showed today.

The figures gave exports at £13,178,668 and imports at £13,583,231. Imports represent an increase of £2,000,000 compared with December.—Associated Press.

THEIR FINEST HOUR

brigades into a single National Fire Service, and to supplement this with a great Fire Guard of civilians trained and working in their spare time. The Fire Guard, like the roof-watchers, was at first recruited on a voluntary basis, but like them it became by general consent compulsory. The National Fire Service gave us the advantages of greater mobility, a universal standard of training and equipment and formally recognized rank. The other Civil Defence forces produced regional columns ready at a minute's notice to go anywhere.

The name Civil Defence Service was substituted for the pro-war title of Air Raid Precautions (A.R.P.). Good uniforms were provided for large numbers, and they became conscious of being Fourth Arm of the Crown.
In all this work Herbert Morris-son was ably assisted by a brave woman whose death we have lately mourned, Ellen Wilkinson.
She was out and about in the shelters at all hours of the day and night and took a prominent part in the organization of the Fire Guard. The Women's Voluntary Service, under the inspiring leadership of Lady Reading, also played an invaluable part.

Safer World

I was glad that if any of our cities were to be attacked, the brunt should fall on London.
London was like some huge prehistoric animal, capable of enduring terrible injuries, mangled and bleeding from many wounds, and yet preserving its life and movement. The Anderson shelters were widespread in the working-class districts of two-storey houses, and everything was done to make them habitable and drain them in shelter was developed, which was no more than a heavy kitchen table made of steel with strong wire sides, capable of holding up the roof of a small house and thus giving a measure of protection. Many owed their lives to it.
For the rest, "London could take it."

As we could see no reason why the hostile bombing of London should not go on throughout the war, it was necessary to make long-term plans for safely housing the central Government machine.
Lord Beaverbrook was entrusted with the task of making a large number of bomb-proof strongholds capable of housing the whole essential staffs of many departments of State, and a dozen of them, several connected by tunnels, survive in London today. None of these were finished till long after the aeroplane raids were over,

and few were used during the pil-laged aircraft and rocket attacks.
However, although these buildings were never used for the purposes for which they were prepared, it was good to feel we had them under our lee. The Admiralty on their own constructed the vast magnificence which weighs upon the Horse Guards Parade, and the demolition of whose twenty-foot-thick steel and concrete walls will be a problem for future generations when we reach a safer world.

Solid Stone

Towards the middle of October Josiah Wedgwood began to make a fuss in Parliament about my not having an absolutely bomb-proof shelter for the night raids.
He was an old friend of mine, and had been grievously wounded in the Dardanelles. He had always been a single-taxer. Later he broadened his views on taxation and joined the Labour party. His brother was the Chairman of the Railway Executive Committee. Before the war they had had the foresight to construct a considerable underground office in Piccadilly. It was 70 feet below the surface and covered with strong, high buildings. I began to be pressed from all sides to resort to this shelter for sleeping purposes. Eventually I agreed, and from the middle of October till the end of the year I used to go there once the firing had started, to transact my evening business and sleep undisturbed. One felt a natural compunction at having much more safety than most other people, but so many pressed me that I let them have their way.

After about forty nights in the railway shelter, the Annexa became stronger, and I moved back to it. Here during the rest of the war my wife and I lived comfortably. We felt confidence in this solid stone building, and only on very rare occasions went down below the armour. My wife even hung up our few pictures in the sitting-room, which I had thought it better to keep bare. Her view prevailed and was justified by the event. From the roof near the cupola of the Annexa there was a splendid view of London on clear nights. They made a place for me with overhead cover from splinters, and one could walk in the moonlight and watch the fireworks. In 1941 I used to take some of my American visitors up here from time to time after dinner. They were always most interested.
On the night of November 3 for the first time in nearly two months no alarm sounded in London. The silence seemed quite odd to many.

They wondered what was wrong.
On the following night the enemy's attacks were widely dispersed throughout the Island; and this continued for a while. There had been another change in the policy of the German offensive. Although London was still regarded as the principal target, a major effort was now to be made to cripple the industrial centres of Britain.
Special squadrons had been trained with new navigational devices to attack specific key-centres. For instance one formation was trained solely for the destruction of the Rolling-mill works at Glasgow.
The invasion of Britain had been temporarily abandoned, and the attack upon Russia had not been mounted or expected outside Hitler's intimate circle. The remaining winter months were therefore to be for the German Air Force a period of experiment, both in technical devices in night-bombing, and in attacks upon British sea-borne trade, together with an attempt to break down our production, military and civil.

Dark Hours

These new bombing tactics began with the blitz on Coventry on the night of November 14. London seemed too large and vague a target for decisive results, but Göring hoped that provincial cities or munition centres might be effectively obliterated. The raid started early in the dark hours. The 14th aircraft had dropped 600 tons of high explosives and thousands of incendiaries. On the whole this was the most devastating raid which we sustained. The centre of Coven-try was shattered, and its life for a spell completely ruptured. Five hundred people were killed and many more seriously injured. The German radio proclaimed that our other cities would be similarly "concentrated." Nevertheless the all-important aero-engine and machine-tool factories were not brought to a standstill; nor was the population, hitherto untired in the ordeal of bombing, put out of action. In less than a week an emergency reconstruction committee did wonderful work in restoring the life of the city.

JAPANESE INDUSTRIES LABOUR WRITER URGES REVIVAL

New York, March 11.

G. D. H. Cole, British Socialist writer, urges the revival of Japanese light industry as a means of raising Asian living standard generally.

Mr. Cole approves the American policy of restoring Japanese textile and similar export industries despite the opposition of Anglo-American manufacturers who fear Japanese competition in the world market, particularly in colonial and economically backward territories.

"From the standpoint of the peoples of such territories," he said, "it is the best thing that could happen."

"Cheap Japanese bicycles have been a godsend to peasants in many backward areas. These bicycles have not been bought instead of the bicycles offered by the Government or by the manufacturers in any of the more advanced countries."

"They have been bought mainly by persons much too poor to afford any bicycles at all, unless the Japanese had offered a remarkably cheap article."

"Similarly, cheap Japanese textiles have been bought by millions of persons who could by no possibility have afforded Lancashire's superior products; and the same thing could be said of many other goods produced by the lighter industries of Japan."

Absurd Notion

"The hope of exports for the advanced countries lies in anything that will make the poorer peoples of the world better off;
and there is no doubt that the industries of Japan, given the requisite access to the world's markets for light consumer goods, can make a considerable contribution to this."

"Japanese industrial wages remain substantially higher than those paid in other Asiatic countries, and it is an absurd notion that peasants much poorer than the Japanese workers ought to be prevented from buying Japanese goods because they are products of 'sweated labour'."

Prime Need

Mr. Cole believes that control of Japan's imports, especially scrap metal, should enable ar-

Court Brevities

One is never too old to learn as three men, whose ages range from 72 to 75, learned yesterday.

They were among 30 defendants charged with hawking without licence. The trio were cautioned and discharged but their young contemporaries were fined $15 each by Mr. Blair-Kerr.

Another old man, brought was an invalid and had to be carried by an attendant.

After the magistrate has perused a medical certificate stating that defendant might die if the opium was deprived of him, the old man was discharged.

"But I have been sitting here for four days, and right now my mother is outside waiting for me!" exclaimed a 10-year-old girl.

She was the last in a line of some 45 juveniles charged with hawking without licence. She was allowed to join her mother.

As Romulus and Remus have fought over where Rome should be built, the three Norwegians scented light over which way their taxi should go.

This landed them before Mr. Blair-Kerr on a charge of disorderly conduct.

DSI MacDonald prosecuting said that the three men, Neilson Didrikson, aged 50, A. J. Jacobsen, aged 20, and Gustav Eriksson, aged 20, hired a taxi and gave no destination.

Once inside the taxi, the first and second defendants wanted to go to a bar, but Eriksson insisted that he should be taken back to his ship at the docks. So they got out of the taxi and exchanged blows until they were arrested.

Jacobson had his bail of $100 returned, the other two defendants were each bound over in the sum of $100. They had also each to pay the taxi driver $5 for fare.

A 11-year-old boy brought up on a charge of begging last week, has now found a home.

A well-to-do Chinese engineer has adopted him through the arrangements of the Juvenile Care Centre at Kowloon which has a representative in the Juvenile Court daily.

There is Kowloon now have such a depository lot for used tickets. This is obviously done in cooperation with Government's "Keep Your City Clean" campaign. It also serves an additional purpose in that discarded tickets cannot be retrieved and used in the crowded Kowloon buses.

ST. STEPHEN'S OLD BOYS MEET

The annual meeting of the St. Stephen's Old Boys' Association was held at the Hong Kong Hotel, Roof Garden, yesterday.

After the meeting, a dinner was held at which a large number of guests attended.

Presiding at the meeting, Mr. Moik Hing-wing, chairman, gave a vote of thanks to the officials of the Association for their support during the past year.

The following officers were elected: Mr. Chan Yi-tung, president; Mr. Chan Kai-ling as Hon. Secretary and Hon. Treasurer; Committee: Messrs. Mok Hing-wing, Leung Tze-wah, Chow In-ning, See Wai-ming, Kok Pak-ching, Shui Wai-ming, Cheng Wung-kui and Li Hin-hang.

Lease Pact Too Vague, Judge Says

Mr. Justice Reynolds yesterday ruled that an alleged agreement for a lease in respect of No. 45, Hankow Road, 3rd floor, was too vague to constitute a settlement of a tenancy appeal which, he directed, must be heard.

The point was raised by Mr. M.A. da Silva, acting for Mr. Leo Green, for whose eviction the landlord, Chan King-luen, had unsuccessfully sought at a tenancy tribunal, and the case was taken to the Supreme Court on appeal.

When the appeal came up for hearing Mr. Silva informed the Court that the point in dispute had been settled by an agreement arrived at between the parties.

The basis of the settlement was a proposed lease of the disputed premises to Mr. Green's nominee. However, the parties failed to come to an agreement, it being held that a new lease agreement and a settlement of the appeal were two separate matters.

In his judgment Mr. Justice Reynolds said it appeared that the solicitors had never come to an agreement, and the terms arrived at by them were too vague to constitute a settlement of the appeal.

Money Market

Gold had another quiet day yesterday, opening at HK$395 a unit and closing at $395.12½, after it had gone up to $395.75.

US dollars continued to climb, reaching HK$5.10½, and closing at a quarter of a cent down.

Gold Yuan was quoted at HK$12.25 for 10,000 for Hong Kong delivery; $10.50 for Canton remittances; and $9.97½ for Shanghai remittances.

Plasires opened at HK$10.25 a 100 and closed at 10.22½, after dropping to $10.12½.

Ticals were unchanged at HK$24.30 a 100.

NEI Guilders opened at HK$33.90 a 100 and closed at 20 cents lower.

Sterling was slightly higher, opening at HK$15.17 in the morning and closing at 15.10.

Australian pounds climbed five more cents to HK$12.80.

The "Cosara" a DC-3 owned by Mr. Maurice Loubiere, landed at Kai Tak yesterday on its maiden flight from Saigon.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

EFFORT TO STABILISE WORLD COTTON PRICES

Washington, March 11.

Cotton exporting and importing nations will meet soon to decide whether to attempt an agreement aimed at stabilising cotton prices. Such an agreement would be modelled after that which an international conference is seeking to negotiate here for wheat without much success thus far.

The cotton meeting will be held in Belgium on April 25-30. It is being called by the International Cotton Advisory Council, an inter-governmental agency which has been struggling with world price and market problems of cotton since before the war.

The U.S. has been a major factor in the move to get an agreement. The idea is to divide world markets of both wheat and cotton among exporting countries on a basis that would assure each its fair share of exports at prices fair to both producers and consumers.

The matter of a cotton agreement, last discussed at a meeting of the Council at Cairo, Egypt, last year, was postponed pending return of more nearly normal world conditions after World War II.

American delegates may advise postponement of negotiations on a cotton agreement until after a decision is reached in a wheat agreement. Meanwhile, it may become necessary for the U.S. either to allow cotton markets to dwindle further, or to take action, such as possible export subsidies, to make its cotton competitive in a world market that has changed from a seller's to a buyer's market since the war.—Associated Press.

RUSSIAN EXPORT OF WHEAT

Washington, March 10.
Russia will provide 50 million bushels of wheat to be supplied by exporting countries under a proposed new international wheat agreement.

Russia had asked for a share of one-fifth in the world's wheat exports in earlier negotiations. There was no explanation how she had been persuaded to accept half that amount.—Reuter.

BANK DIVIDEND

At the stockholders meeting on April 4, the Directors of the Chartered Bank India, Australia and China, will recommend final dividend at the rate of six per cent actual, subject income tax making 12 per cent for the year.

Allocations: £100,000, Pension Fund: £15,000, Widows and Orphans Fund: £150,000, Bank Premises: £406,437, carried forward.

The dividend paid for the year 1947 was at the rate of 12 per cent per annum.

South China 'A' Meet Navy This Afternoon

A full programme of soccer has been arranged for the week-end, with the First Division game between South China "A" and Royal Navy at Causeway Bay this afternoon taking the spotlight.

The meeting between Kowloon Motor Bus and Club at Boundary Street tomorrow is likely to be interesting, while the Kit Chee and Chinese AA game at Caroline Hill will draw large crowds on the Island.

Earlier in the season, Navy lost to South China "A" by three clear goals, after putting up a somewhat spirited display. Although the sailors practically over-ran the Chinese at one stage of the game, at that occasion, weakness in the forward line prevented them from scoring.

The sailors have been doing quite well of late and although another win for the Chinese is expected, there is always a chance that the Navy might bring a surprise, as they did in their match against Kowloon Motor Bus last month.

The two service teams, RAF and Army, will meet each other at Sookumpoo. The Armen will undoubtedly take the field full of confidence after their well-merited win over St. Joseph's last week. It is not likely, however, that they will be able to overcome the soldiers, who should take both points. Army won by two goals to one last time.

At Caroline Hill
A keenly contested game is expected at Caroline Hill between South China "B" and Eastern. The First Round game between these two teams proved to be an exciting affair and ended in a draw, each side scoring three times.

The match between Kowloon Motor Bus and Club at Boundary Street should prove to be the best of tomorrow's games, although Chinese soccer fans are likely to find the Kit Chee and Chinese AA game at Caroline Hill a greater attraction.

St. Joseph's v Police
St. Joseph's will be at home to Police on the Club Ground at Happy Valley. The last meeting between these two teams ended in a most unsatisfactory manner, play being abandoned with seven minutes left for play and the Saints leading by one goal to nil.

The Saints are no longer the powerful side that they were at the beginning of the season and a win for the Police tomorrow would not come as a surprise. The statement of accounts for the month ended February 28, which was passed at Tuesday's meeting of the HKFA Council, revealed the somewhat interesting information that a sum of HK$5,525.00 had been disbursed for medical expenses incurred as a result of the Korean series.

These figures would appear to indicate that football in Hong Kong is fast becoming a dangerous as well as expensive form of sport.

Injury To Players
At a recent meeting of the HKFA, reference was made regarding the apparent lack of interest displayed by officials of the Association in the serious injury sustained by Rafferty of the Royal Navy while playing for England against Portugal in the International Cup.

Rafferty was rushed from the field to hospital, where he was for some considerable time.

Although a suggestion was put forward and adopted that an official of the HKFA contact Mr. H. J. Clarke, Port Recreation Officer, regarding a visit to Rafferty while in hospital, it is understood that no action was taken to carry this suggestion into effect.

At the same time, considerable publicity has been given in the Press At Meetings

Opportunity might have been taken to make a few comments regarding the lack of consideration shown to the press at meetings of the HKFA.

With the exception of Mr. H. K. Lee, none of the other officials who have occasion to speak at these meetings can be heard audibly by members of the press, who have to stand either at the counter or at the end of the room. It seems to be a common practice for officials of the HKFA, with the one exception mentioned, to murmur among themselves and to pass rapidly from one item on the agenda to another without the press being cognizant of what is happening.

As regards treatment of the press, the HKFA certainly have something to learn from the Hong Kong Chinese Football Association.

The practice of calling upon the press to leave the room and to stand in a dark corridor for 15 or 20 minutes while officials deliberate on some point, is also most unsatisfactory. At a recent meeting, the press were asked to leave the room on two separate occasions.

It is suggested, therefore, that if the HKFA know that they are going to hold "secret sessions" in future, they should notify the press to this effect and arrange to issue "hand-outs" to the press after the meeting. By adopting this procedure, the HKFA will save the press much valuable time and also eliminate much of the dissatisfaction which exists at present.

The following is the week-end programme:

Cromwell Firm As Favourite

London, March 11.

Lord Mildmay's Cromwell held firm as the 100 to 7 favourite for the Grand National in a betting call-over last night.

Cottage Rake was quoted as the 100 to 6 second choice for the big Aintree steeplechase on March in a round-up of odds at the Victoria Club.

Others listed were Cloncarro 18 to 1; Bricett 22 to 1; Calligero, Royal Mount and Happy Home 25 to 1; Ulster Monarch 25 to 1.

Everything else in the field of 53 was at 33 to 1 against.

In a call-over for the Lincolnshire Handicap, a one mile event on March 10, which is the first big stake on the flat racing programme, Drakkar replaced Fair Judgment as favourite.

Fair Judgment, 19 to 2 last week, slid off to 10 to 1 while Drakkar was quoted at 9 to 1.

Other Lincolnshire prices were Minister-Lovell 100 to 7; Spurred 100 to 6; Goldborough, Crown Plets and Romano 20 to 1; Star Signal 25 to 1; Bright Paul and Speciality 25 to 1—Associated Press.

UPSETS LIKELY IN TODAY'S VALLEY RACE MEETING

C.K. Lee Enters Semi-Final Of Shuttle Tourney

The University left-hander, C. K. Lee enters the Semi-Final of the Colony Badminton Singles Championship, which he scored a convincing win of 15-7, and 15-5 over YMCA's R. Young at the VRC last night.

Lee was the much steadier of the two, and his accurate shot and smashes secured him most of the points. Young, on the other hand, seemed to suffer from lack of match temperament, and was not playing his usual form, all his smashes and jobs going yards out of their mark.

The inter-family affair between the Soares and the Chungs in the Junior Mixed Doubles event turned out to be the most exciting game of the evening.

The Soares won, but not after a gruelling three set duel. In the last game of the evening, between Recreio's M. A. Oliveira-J. J. Remedios and W. F. Foo and C. Au, the score had reached 12-11, when Oliveira slipped and dislocated his elbow.

This accident cannot but make the Committee of the Badminton Association realise the danger that a slippery court can cause to players.

The suggestion that the VRC court should have been thoroughly washed before the Championship games was suggested in these columns.

In addition the choice of the KCC court as a venue of the Championship games has been opposed repeatedly and it was surprising that no untoward accident occurred during last Thursday, when players were forced to indulge more in acrobatic stunts than badminton strokes.

FULL SCORES

Junior Men's Singles: M. T. Yew beat H. P. Tai, 15-3, 15-5.

Ladies' Doubles: Miss M. Silva and Miss M. Xavier beat Mrs. Correa and Mrs. M. P. P. 15-5, 15-3.

Junior Mixed Doubles: D. C. Lau and Miss H. Kwong beat C. H. Ngau and Miss T. Remedios, 15-3, 15-10.

Senior Men's Singles: C. K. Lee beat M. T. Yew, 15-3, 15-5.

Ladies' Singles: Miss U. Kho beat Miss T. Soares, 15-2, 15-1.

Junior Mixed Doubles: Mr. and Mrs. Soares beat Mr. and Mrs. Chungs, 15-3, 15-13.

Jones, Ayres Beat CRC Doubles Pair

Four out of the six matches of the Colony Open Doubles Tennis Championships yesterday at the Cricket Club went to the full distance of three sets.

In the best game of the evening, B. T. M. Jones and H. A. Ayres, after losing the first set by 2-6, made an excellent recovery to win the second and third sets.

Repeated errors in the first set gave the initiative to the Chinese pair, who were playing the usual careful game. Seto Bick was conspicuous at this stage with his medium paced service, which seemed to skim the ground, causing Jones and Ayres continuously to not their returns.

The second set saw Ayres at his best with his cannon-ball services and blazing drive volleys that forced Bick and Choy to stay at the base for most of the period.

At the base for most of the period, Jones and Ayres picked up form and his overhead smashes and drives developed more accuracy.

The Chinese pair tried to retake the initiative in the final set and kept advancing to the net.

Ayres' services, and the powerful drives and overhead smashes of both Ayres and Jones, however, turned the tide in their favour.

SCORES

B. T. M. Jones and H. A. Ayres beat Seto Bick and Choy Tai-wah, 2-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Kwok Hing-chung and Roch Leung beat T. Yek-ching and P. Fong, 6-2, 6-7, 6-2.

Toei Ping-fan and Luk Din-chung beat Baker brothers, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

M. Heest and M. W. Lo beat H. Lo and Y. Lo, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

L. F. Stokes and D. T. Chen beat J. J. Pearce and D. Pittory Williams, 6-0, 6-0.

Lee Koon-sing and T. T. Chen beat Kam-moon and Lee Chun-kit, 7-5, 6-2.

KHALSA XI

The following have been selected to represent the Khalsa Sports Club in the Hockey Association fixture against the Police to be played on the Police Ground, Boundary Street, at 10 a.m.

Players: J. S. Dillon, M. H. Hansen, Subodh Singh, G. M. P. Goss, Bertie Goss, S. N. Singh, M. N. Singh and U. S. Dillon.

Players are requested to note the change of time. Those who are unable to play should notify U. S. Dillon, Tel. No. 2119.

An interesting programme of 10 events will feature the Third Race Meeting of the Hong Kong Jockey Club, the first race of which will commence promptly at 2 p.m.

It is hoped that the weather will be fine. Even if it does not rain, the track will be on the soft side, with the inevitable result that the going will be slow, in which case upsets can be expected.

Rapier's Selections For Today

Race No. 1—Pottinger Gap Handicap (First Section): Six Furlongs.

The day's programme opens with a race confined to Australian ponies Class 5 and in view of the short distance it is not easy to spot the winner. An exciting event and a close finish is anticipated.

It will be remembered that at the Annual Race Meeting, Colonia (Mr. Ostroff) came second to Nonday Sun in the Jockey Club Handicap (First Section) over the two mile post and judging from that performance its chances of chalking a win here is really bright.

However, I am rather inclined to believe that, in spite of 151 lb, Countess Delight, provided Mr. C. F. Ng can get it away from the gate without trouble, should be the good.

On the other hand, Trade Wind (Mr. Pote-Hunt) must not be overlooked despite its defeat in the Old Course Handicap (Second Section) at the Annual Meeting by Minx.

Belle Fontaine (Mr. Matland) and Toowombaa Boy (Mr. Gregory) are also in this race and should find the distance just right and will be well worth following.

Race No. 2—Smugglers Pass Stakes (First Section): From The Two Mile Post Once Round & In.

This race is confined to Australian Subscription ponies of 1949 whether they have started or not. Ponies that have won $750 or more in stakes barred.

The ponies to watch in this race will be Jennifer (Mr. Matland), Sharpshooter (Mr. Alexander), Busy Bee (Mr. Mui) and Sprig (Mr. Shu) and Speed Wheel (Mr. Gregory).

I look to Jennifer to win this race in view of its consistently good form during morning gallops. Sharpshooter should be a close second, as this pony has been whistled as a good upstart.

Forever Spring has been making rapid improvement, and the distance should suit it. Speed Wheel is quite capable of upsetting calculations, as it can move fairly fast over this distance.

Race No. 3—Customs Pass Handicap (First Section): Once Round.

In this race for the first lot of Class 4 Australian ponies Boom Town (Mr. C. F. Chiu) has been allotted top weight of 159 lb, and as it has not shown any form, it might serve as a guide we can safely leave it out of reckoning.

Anyway, with Mr. Fonseca up, was officially fourth in the Jockey Cup over the two mile post at the Annual Meeting. It will be taken out by Mr. Shieh this afternoon and certainly appears to have the better recommendation for a win here.

Anything is likely to happen, however, and the defeat of Anyway by either Lana (Mr. Wong Yan) or The Dingo (Mr. Kwok) is not by any means impossible. True, Lana has not done anything of note for a long time, but I have a feeling it is due for a win.

The Dingo was second in the Old Course Handicap (First Section) over the two mile post at the Annual Meeting being beaten by Heroic Lassie after leading most of the way. It is quite possible that it may spring a surprise in this race.

Argentine Moon (Mr. Cook) should also do well here, while Jeep Hing (Mr. Matland) with only 137 lb to handle looks dangerous.

Race No. 4—Pottinger Gap Handicap (Second Section): Six Furlongs.

In this race for the second section of Class 5 Australian ponies, the likely winner should come from one of the following: Seafire (Mr. Tao), Brivisto (Mr. Ostroff), Care Free (Mr. Gregory), Toolet (Mr. Kwok) and Jump Bid (Mr. Castro).

Seafire with Mr. K. F. Chiu up came in third to Heroic Lassie and The Dingo in the Old Course Handicap (First Section) over the two mile post at the Annual Meeting and, whilst I consider that it has a good chance of winning here on account of a change in jockey department, I expect it to receive stiff opposition from Brivisto, which was fourth in this same race. Care Free has not been in the Unlight for some time, but it may spring a surprise here when least expected.

Toolet and Jump Bid are two capable sprinters and can be depended to give the above ponies a good fight to the end.

Race No. 5—Magazine Gap Handicap (First Section): One Mile.

This is really the main event of the day and is confined to Australian Subscription ponies of 1949. Ponies that have won $2,000 or less in stakes barred.

After its convincing run in the Newmarket Handicap over the mile carrying 159 lb at the last meeting, Skymaster (Mr. B. L. Tao) has again been allotted the same weight, and as it appears to be fitter than before, I cannot see anything to beat it.

Golden Dahlia (Mr. H. S. Chiu) winner of the Hong Kong Derby, One and a Half Miles on the third day of the Annual Meeting is also carrying 159 lb and should be prominent, judging from that run coupled with its fine form at the moment when it completed the mile last Wednesday morning in the time of 2-05 with a last quarter of 28 in. In my opinion it will be worth following.

Egyptian Field and Ben Wyvis, the second and third pony in the Hong Kong Derby, I have been given to understand, will not start although entered, thus leaving Shun Fung (Mr. Matland) and Duches Delight (Mr. S. F. Ng) fighting out the third position.

Race No. 6—Pottinger Gap Handicap (Third Section): Six Furlongs.

This is the third section of the race for Class 5 Australian ponies. Looking over the entries, the result will be decided between following: Chief Witness (Mr. Tao), Frotylight (Mr. Pote-Hunt), Possibility (Mr. K. F. Chiu) and Arabian Moon (Mr. Kwok).

Chief Witness ran extremely well at the Annual Meeting to win the Hong Kong Handicap (Second Section) for Class 7 ponies over the mile with Mr. Young up carrying 159 lb. As it will have a change of jockey in Mr. Tao this afternoon and carrying eight lb less, I am inclined to believe that it is capable of winning.

Frotylight came in third in the Jockey Club Handicap (Third Section) has been promoted to a class higher, as it will be running with four lb less than at its last outing, it certainly looks dangerous and should be prominent at the finish.

Possibility was third in the Old Course Handicap (Second Section) at the Annual Meeting carrying 140 lb as its weight remains the same it should give the above two ponies a good fight towards the end.

Arabian Moon although run unplaced in the above race with Possibility should do better over this distance and a good start here may enable the pony to upset calculations.

Race No. 7—Smugglers Pass Stakes (Second Section): From The Two Mile Post Once Round & In.

Second batch of unplaced ponies and non-starters of this season will try conclusion here. Radiotron (Mr. Ostroff) will be running its first race this afternoon and judging from its training gallop last Wednesday morning when it completed the six furlongs in the time of 1-20.4 with a last quarter of 29.1 seconds, has the best recommendation for a win here. I expect it to receive stiff opposition from Iron Mask (Mr. Wong Yan) which is fighting at at the moment.

This pony was over the six furlongs distance on Wednesday morning in 1-20.3. Reuter (Mr. Mui) disappointed its backers at the last meeting very badly by running unplaced in the Ascot Stakes (First Section) that I am reluctant to suggest any possible chance of its winning. All the same for those prepared to take a risk, this pony may yet spring a surprise.

Reputation (Mr. Pote-Hunt) and Good News (Mr. H. S. Chang) are two ponies that are coming on nicely in their morning gallops and may cause an upset.

Race No. 8—Customs Pass Handicap (Second Section): Once Round.

This event will be fought out by second section of Australian ponies Class 4 and judging from past performances Prince Delight, which will be taken out by Mr. Pote-Hunt, will probably win.

Opposition is likely to come from Big Shot (Mr. Wong Yan). Flying Jip (Mr. Cook) is another pony to watch as it was recently demoted from Class 3 whilst National Congress (Mr. Chanson) is not bad. It has been whispered about that Victorious (Mr. Kwok) is capable of creating an upset, but although it has not done anything of note over this distance, I am inclined to think that it will have to be very good to beat the above-mentioned ponies.

Spanish Onion, with Mr. Ng up, is another candidate capable of extending the field.

Race No. 9—Magazine Gap Handicap (Second Section): One Mile.

Among the entries for this race which is confined to second section of Australian Subscription ponies of 1949 with ponies that have won $2,000 or less in stakes barred, I like the chances of High Speed (Mr. Pote-Hunt), Popularity (Mr. K. F. Chiu), Shun Lee (Mr. Matland) and Ringmer (Mr. Ostroff).

High Speed won the Leighton Hill Stakes (Second Section) on the fourth day of the Annual Meeting over six furlongs and on
